Congregation Accepts Challenge of Hughes to Free Church of All Debts

The entire bonded indebtedness of $40,000 of the First Baptist church, was lifted at the morning and night services Sunday.

It was an event which inspiringly climaxed the revival of the week preceding and "The Old Time Religion" rang out, sung by the happy congregation, as it became evident that the last dollar of indebtedness had been subscribed.

At the morning service $19,000 was raised and at the evening service the remainder. Leading to the climax, J. K. Hughes arose and stated that Mrs. Hughes had a proposition to offer. She was invited to speak and simply state that the indebtedness had been reduced to $13,000 and that she was ready to pay half of that, if the Board of Deacons would agree to raise the other half. John McElroy, a member of the Finance Committee, who has devoted many hours to the campaign, so pleased to hear this announcement and challenge, promptly told her that although he was not a member of the Board of Deacons, her proposition was accepted. Then it was that the congregation burst into the singing of "The Old Time Religion," while tears of joy filled the eyes of scores of men and women who were so eager for the success of the movement.

The campaign to build the Baptist church, a magnificent temple in this city, was begun about two years ago. Many said that it could not be done, but with faith in themselves and their God, the Building Committee and Finance Committee and other officials carried the work ahead until the prop-

The outstanding feature of the election in Massachusetts of delegates-at-large to the Democratic National Convention was the election of Brigadier-General Charles N. Cole, who ran solely on the ground that he would vote for the nomination of Governor Alfred E. Smith, of New York. LaFayette B. Gleason, of Kansas, has been elected secretary of the Republican National Convention, to be held in Cleveland, O., and Colonel Edward B. Thayer, of Indianapolis, has been named sergeant-at-arms. Sir Robert Kindersley, British banker and member of the Dawes committee, has been appointed by the Reparations Commission to organize the new German bank of issue to be set up under the Dawes plan.

UNDERWOOD DOES NOT CONCEDE VICTORY IN PRECINCTS

DALLAS, Texas, May 5.—Encouraged by the decisive victory for McAdoo in Saturday's precinct primaries, Texas leaders for the former Secretary of the Treasury laid their plans today to gain complete control of tomorrow's county conventions. Thomas B. Love, national committeeman for Texas, declared that McAdoo would have enough support to defeat a combination of the Underwood and uninstructed forces. He declared that neither Governor Neff nor Former Governor James E. Ferguson are wanted on the Texas delegation to New York. Captain W. E. Lea, Texas Underwood manager, refused to concede the victory to McAdoo and declared that he was ready to combine with the uninstructed delegates at the state convention. He charged that the Klan aided McAdoo to win in Dallas, Harris and Tarrant counties.

St. Louis Browns Offer Event Of The Past Week

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, May 5.—Revival of the St. Louis Browns and the Brooklyn Robins was the only interesting features last week in the major league pennant races. The two New York champions continued to dominate the opposition and they are holding such a consistent trance that Metropolitan fans think they are in.

The revival of the St. Louis Browns, was represented in five victories not only lifted George Sisler's team into a tie for fifth place, but it pulled the Detroit Tigers from the lead.

Four of the five victories were won at the expense of the Tigers.

The revival of the Browns was only natural as it is potentially a strong club. Sisler is playing great ball and to the satisfaction of all baseball he has pulled what seems to be a complete comeback.

The bust of the Philadelphia Athletics who dropped six straight games and crashed into the cellar, was another event of the week. The Athletics and the Cleveland Indians are the biggest disappointments of the early season.

The Indians are finding it almost impossible to get started as the club has been getting poor pitching, has been acting in the field and is not hitting like it should.

Only .225 points separate the leading Yankees and the trailing Athletics

Mothers Of City To Be Honored by A Picnic Tuesday

Miss Cathereene McGrail states that the members of the T. E. L. Class are looking forward with pleasure to the Mothers Day picnic which they will provide Tuesday afternoon at the Reunion Grounds.

She states that quite a number of the members of the class have no mothers living and these have adopted Mothers of 60 or over who will be with them Tuesday.

Every effort is being made to provide transportation and a big time for those who attend. Those not reached by phone or letter, over 60 are urged to telephone Miss McGrail or to be at the First Baptist church at 2:00 p. m. Tuesday. The party will go from there to the reunion grounds and will return before night. The outing and hospitality will be enjoyed by everyone.

By HECK

The Gushers returned from their great trip about the loop and at once proceeded to stage a hetic eleven inning battle with Rankin Johnson's Temple Surgeons at Nowlin Park Sunday. To begin with we lost the game in the first frame when the appendix getters nicked Bob Crow for three hits and aided by errors in bunches, scored four runs for no reason whatever. In this stanza Bryan booted one, Peake one, and Leedy three. The Gushers came right back and tallied five times in about the same manner that the Surgeons did. Geppert started the fracas with a two base blow to left. Butler ambled on four, McDowell flied to right, the Squib going to third after the catch and scoring on Bryan's long foul to left which Webb was crazy enough to catch. Jones singled to center, Lance booted Peake's easy roller. Leedy took a soak in the slats and with the bases loaded to the muzzle, Skipper Fowlkes whammed a two base knock over Lind's bean in right clearing the bases and we were a run to the good. Ludwick relieved Crow in the first with only one out and the Gushers chased Trammel in the fifth but were stopped dead by this bird McCall who had plenty and sure used it. The knife wielders knotted the count in the fifth on Lind's single after two were out and Leedy's error on Royster's blow that finally settled in right center while Red legged it for third and Swede counted. The final blow off came in the eleventh frame on Webb's double, Nichols' single, a pass to Lacy that filled the sacks and pitcher McCall's single to center. In spite of the loss the Gushers look like a much better club than the Surgeons and they were due to spill a flock of errors since they have been playing a tight fielding game the past several days. Then another good reason it was to lose was the fact that it gave the "wovles," the "tin horns" and the bum sports a chance to howl and believe me brother they sure howled. What I can't savvy is what right have this gang of small town sports to howl over the loss of one game when the club has just returned from a road trip in which the won six out of eight games. I hate to say it but you loyal fans know that we had a bunch of poor losers out there Sunday and they howled and razzed the home club during the first half of the first frame was a crime, and then they turned and cheeder them when the Gushers showed their fighting stuff by overcoming the lead in the same frame. To you hard losers I want to tip you off that it is bad policy to bet your coca cola and ice cream soda money on a ball game—you might lose and then you will only have your powder puff and vanity box to cheer you up for the balance of the week.

Tom Price made his debut before a Mexia crowd as umpire and handled the game to perfection and it was a tough game for any umpire to handle with two wild pitchers like Trammell and McCall working—especially Trammell. Price is starting his twenty-second year as an umpire and is conceded to be one of the best in the minor leagues and it is well worth the price of admission to watch him handle a game.

It looks like Rankin Johnson (himself) in the box for Temple today and I expect to see Skipper Fowlkes shoot Bob Crow back at the enemy and I'll stake a stick of gum that Bob wins this time.

Resolutions will likely be introduced at the County Convention which convenes in Groesbeck Tuesday morning at 10 o'cloc, urging the delegation to the State Convention at Waco to vote for Alvin Ousley for Vice President on the Democratic ticket.

Quite a number of his friends here have been active today and the atmosphere has been found generally favorable, according to reports late this afternoon.

A general campaign all over Texas, since several precincts instructed for him Saturday, is being made by a Ousley For Vice President Organization with headquarters in Dallas and which includes many of the leading democrats of Texas.

He is past National Commander of the American Legion, which fact gives him a strong following all over Texas and his nomination is considered favorable in many states, it is claimed.

Fourteen Injured In Crash Monday

CHICAGO, May 5.—Fourteen persons were injured, none fatally, when an elevator in the Ashland block 20-story loop building crashed from the eighth floor today. A broken cable caused the accident. A panic followed the crash. Shrieks of women aladmed the occupants of the building, scores of whom rushed into the streets. The victims were penned in the elevator for half an hour as the door was jammed and it required firemen with axes to break it down.

C. E.'S CLOSE CONVENTION SUNDAY NITE

The Convention of the Waco District of Christian Endeavor which convened last week at Tehuacana was brought to a close Sunday evening. Something over 150 visitors and delegates were present during the services.

Features of the Saturday morning session were the addresses by Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Landrum. Mrs. Landrum spoke on "Tonics for Missionary Programs, illustrating her lecture cleverly with bottles filled with colored water to represent medical tonics. Mr. Landrum's address had for its subject "My Obligation to God in Time and Money." He stressed the importance of tithing and showed by statistics the comparative salaries received by business and professional men, fighters, actors, and ministers. After Mr. Landrum's address the delegates engaged in a sort of round table discussion on the subject of "My Society's Power—What?"

The afternoon session was taken up with a conference on Society problems and an address on the Teen Age by Austin D. Bryan, Assistant Field Secretary of the State Christian Endeavor Society. Mrs. Landrum gave a splendid reading entitled, "The Lost Word" by Henry Van Dyke.

Saturday evening the delegates and visitors were entertained at the Girls Dormitory with a Fellowship Banquet which was a most enjoyable affair. The session which convened at 7:15 was featured with an address by Austin D. Bryan on "The Big Business of Christian Endeavor- The Youth."

Previous to Mr. Austin's address the Convention heard the reports of Committees elected at the Saturday morning session, and selected Hillsboro as the place for the Fall Convention.

Rev. Victor K. Aubrey addressed the Convention Sunday afternoon on the subject "Whatsoever With My Life." His address came as a splendid inspiration to those who were permitted to hear him. "Christian Endeavor and the Good Life" was the subject of an address of new methods in Christian Endeavor work, by Mr. Austin Bryan at this session. Roy D. Jordon gave a short discussion of Camp Convention and some business matters of importance to the society were taken up.

"Ye Are My Friends" was the address at the closing session Sunday evening delivered by Rev. J. W. Pearson. Rev. Pearson made use of an acrostic based on the letters in the name Christ and showed what one must do and be in order to be classed as a friend of Christ. Before his address resolutions prepared for the Convention by a committee were read and approved and the Convention came

Colonel Humphreys Spends Sunday Here

Col. Albert E. Humphreys spent Sunday in Mexia, the guest of Mayor Ernest Watson. He arrived about 11:00 o'clock from Dallas by automobile from Corsicana and returned on the afternoon train. He met many friends while here who were glad to see him in the city for the first time in many months. At noon, he had dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Watson. Ben Stollenwerck also enjoyed the hospitality of the occasion at the Mayor's home.

While here, the Colonel made two trips to his favorite spot, the Reunion Grounds and looked real home sick for the place, Mayor Watson avers. He was very much gratified to note the progress that had been made here in recent months. "Mexia is one of the best towns in the country," he said.

Pioneer Newsies Want A Game

The Pioneer Ball Club is encountering great difficulty in securing games for the past two or three weeks. Manager Williams states that the boys have been disappointed at least five times by out of town ball clubs who promised to come in and play and then failed to show up.

The club wish to play some boys team in Mexia and are open for games almost at any time. The boys want to play and disappointment work hard in the youngsters. Any club in the sixteen year old class will be taken on and a game may be matched by simply calling the Pioneer News Stand at the Mexia Drug Company.

WATCHING THE SCOREBOARD

Yesterday's hero—Grover Alexander. The veteran Chicago pitcher let the Cardinals down with three hits and beat them 4 to 1. Freigban's homer kept the Cards from being blanked.

Three runs in the eighth and two in the ninth inning gave the Browns a six to five victory over the Tigers and a clean sweep of the series.

Poor pitching by four White Sox hurlers enabled the Indians to win 13 to 7.

The Giants massacred the poor Phillines and took a double header from them by scores of 13 to 3 and 12 to 3.

NEW YORK.—When prisoners are received at Sing Sing, they generally are given work they were accustomed to in the outside world. But Harry Mitchell, convict inmate was an aviator so the Warden faces a dilemma.

T. P. Browder Blows In As Big Gasser When the Casing Is Pulled at 3200

The T. & P. Browder well near Groesbeck blew in as a big gasser while the casing was being pulled Saturday and is now running wild. It is reported that the casing was blown out of the hole and a big crater is now being formed around the well. Mud and water is being thrown about a hundred feet in the air according to reports and there is apparently no let up in the gas pressure since the well blew in Saturday. T. & P. officials are expected to arrive at Groesbeck on the noon train today to take charge of the well, although it will probably be a complete wreck and the hole destroyed by the gas pressure and cavings.

The Browder was drilled by the T. & P. something over a year ago to a reported depth of about 3200 feet and was abandoned as dry although a gas blow out occurred while the casing was being set and considerable mud and slush thrown out at that time.

The infection involved sixty four head of cattle, all in previously ravaged areas. Continued success in wiping out the infection in other parts of the state were reported by the state and federal authorities.

A MONUMENTAL SERVICE WROUGHT BY MEXIA BAPTISTS AND FRIENDS

Sunday will be remembered by all Baptists of Mexia as the greatest day in the history of the congregation.

The members came with their offerings, the result of loving sacrifice and dedicated them to loving service, the combined contributions lifting the burden of bondage from their shoulders and freeing the millstone that has hung about their necks for nearly two years and which has been a wild nightmare to disturb the pence of mind of the Board of Deacons, Finance Committee, pastor and other leaders of the church.

All Mexia congratulates them on the success which now is theirs and especially rejoice that Mexia has so many good people, men, women and children, who are ever responsive to duty's call, even though duty claims that they pass through periods of sacrifice in order to meet their obligations to God and to Man.

In reviewing the wonderful work of God's love in the hearts of Mexia Baptists, it would be unjust not to pay a tribute to that sterling citizen, J. K. Hughes and to Mrs. Hughes as well, for the part which they played, which meant so much to the success of the finance campaign, in the conduct of which so many rich spirited blessings came to the congregation.

The whole week, from April 27 to May 4, was filled with spiritual blessings, as the revival spirit hovered around the altars and baptized the hearts and souls of the members of this church. The closing day, therefore, found hands attuned for the work before them and that they succeeded is not a matter of surprise but is the natural results expected to have followed the miracles of salvation.

To, the visiting minister, Dr. W. O. Barnett of Dallas, contributed his time, interest and zeal along with his matchless gifts, as a leader of men, unselfishly and generously to the glory of God and cause of Christianity in Mexia, provokes the highest commendation of grateful lives.

The pastor, Rev. Joe Jeffers; Assistant Pastor, Rev. Paul Harper, Board of Deacons, Finance Committee and every contributor have rendered a service to their community which will be a memorial to them as enduring as the Rock of Ages and as lasting as the centuries of an unending eternity.

Especial commendation from the Great Judge is sure to be given before the Judgment Bar to the widow who gave her mite; to the person who went to the bin and gave the last pound of meal, and, indeed, there were such, as well as to the person of means who presented an offering worthy of his worldly substance.

An inspiration stirring in its power is the thought that Mexia citizens will not have to wait until the waters of that mystic river of death close in upon all that is mortal of men before they begin to reap dividends on their investment in this world and at this particular time. The lifting of the enormous church debt Sunday will invigorate the church life of every denomination in Mexia, will encourage Christians everywhere to work for a better world, and points those who have not professed faith in Christianity to depths of human joy which they have never experienced and to the spirit of sacrifice of which they know but little. All are benefited by the example.

God pays dividends on investments in His causes more assuredly than does any human institution or individual and He pays them now. They are not declared once a year or once in ten years, but every day. He sends the sunshine and the rain, the harvest and the power to reap as well as the power to sow; He watches over His children in the hours when all others forsake them. Indeed, the prophet of old spoke of the future as well as the past when he declared emphatically that he had never seen the righteous forsaken nor his seed begging bread.

LIMESTONE COUNTY CONVENTION

From reports from over the county, it would seem that William Gibbs McAdoo will receive the vote of the Limestone County Democrats when they go to the State Convention at Waco. The indications are that he is the favorite of the county. Many delegations have been instructed for him. One delegation has been instructed for Underwood. Many of the uninstructed delegations are known to be for McAdoo. Thus, it is but natural to suspect that Mr. McAdoo will be favored.

There promises, however, to be a fight in the county convention and every delegate should honor those who honored them by being present, each and every one doing his duty as instructed, and if not instructed, according to what he believes would be the dictates of the people.

In the resolutions, it is suggested that it would be well to present for county adoption the resolutions passed at the Mexia voting precinct convention and in addition urge a strong immigration plank and reinforce the demand as much as possible that the Democratic Party continue in the Bone Dry Column and for all the amendments to the Constitution as well as to the Constitution itself.

SHOULD LIGHT WINE AND 2.75 PER CENT BEER BE PERMITTED

1. Light wine and beer are intoxicating. The art of distillation is a modern discovery. Every case of drunkenness in ancient history was caused by light wine or beer. The Bible says that Noah drank wine and was drunken. According to the light wine nullificationists, the Bible must be corrected. Noah could not have been drunken because wine is not intoxicating! Alexander the Great died in a drunken debauch, but he had never heard of whiskey. They only had light wine and beer in his day. Must history be corrected or are the nullificationists wrong?

2. We would have a drink bill of $5,000,0000,000 annually. When the nation closed the saloons our drink bill was nearly $2,500,000,000. The post-war drink bill in Great Britain with about 40,000,000 people reached 470,000,000 pounds or approximately $2,250,000,000, which we understand, is practically double what it was before the Kaiser started trouble. With increased prices and greater consumption, due to after-war tendencies, there is no doubt that our liquor bill would be $5,000,000,000 annually, not including the incidental losses to the people caused by the renewed traffic. What would it mean to take $5,000,000,000 out of legitimate American industry at the present time? According to Charles Lenon, of the American Federation of Labor, the working men of the United States contributed 70 per cent of the drink bill in pre-prohibition days. What would it mean to lower the standard of living of our people particularly of our working classes, to the tune of $5,000,000,000 at one time?

3. We would have the saloon back. The American saloon was a beer saloon, not a whisky saloon. All of its institutional evils including its brothel accompaniment, its gambling hells and side-entrances for women introduced by the brewery-owned saloon, would thrive just as well if not a drop of whisky were sold.

4. More than ninety per cent of the old-time liquor trade would come back. The belief that beer should not come under the condemnation meted out to whisky is traceable to the common impression that beer drinkers consume much less alcohol than whisky drinkers. But those who believe this overlook the fact that the man who drinks four per cent beer usually takes ten times as much as the man who drinks forty per cent whisky. The United States Internal Revenue Commissioner, on page 675 1914, gives the per capita consumption of distilled spirits and beer for that year, their respective alcoholic contents as follows:

	Gallons Used	Gallons of Alcohol
Distilled Spirits	1.46	0.584
Malt Liquors	20.51	0.820

It will be seen from this that the per capita consumption of alcohol by beer drinkers in 1914 was 40 per cent greater than by whisky drinkers.

5. But we would also have whisky back. You cannot open 200,000 saloons in this country and keep them from selling whisky. The saloon never obeyed any law passed for its regulation except the law compelling it to pay a tax and the evasions of that were notorious.

6. We would have the trade back. If you want to know what that was, read the report of the Senate Judiciary Committee on the breweries and anti-American propaganda. All of the rottenness and hyphenism of the trade would be once again injected into politics.

7. We would have a new evil in wide-spread drinking by women. The American woman was kept out of the American saloon. The American man considered her too good for the debauching influence of beer. Very few "respectable" women drank at all in America in the old days. But the old standards of conduct for women are passing away under the influence of the new feminism and we have not yet had time for the establishment of new standards. In this transition time, the influence of the saloon and the beer trade, urged by an economic motive and pushed by every method of trade promotion, would be perilous to American womanhood.

8. It is not needed for medicine. One hundred of the greatest physicians and surgeons of the United States in a signed petition to Congress protesting against the enactment of a medical beer bill said:

"Malt liquors serve no medical purposes which cannot be satisfactorily met in other ways, and that without the danger of cultivating the beverage use of an alcoholic liquor.

"Beer has never been recognized as a medicine. It has no such status in law, science or tradition. It is not listed at all in the United States pharmacopoeia, the standard of medicine, nor it its use advocated in any text book generally accepted by the medicine profession."

Letters from People

COMMENCEMENT SEASON

To all City Superintendents and High School Principals:

The commencement season, which brings with it term examinations, the making of statistical reports and the general rounding up of school activities, is approaching. Some of you are closing up the work in your present field and are looking forward to the next year as affording still greater opportunities in your chosen profession.

It is needless for me to suggest that this democratic institution—the American school—in which we are co-laborers, challenges each of us to render the very best service possible in the training of boys and girls to be worthy citizens of the great empire state of Texas. Honesty of purpose is characteristic of the true professional teacher, who is ever seeking for new ideas that may contribute to the successful accomplishment of his plans.

I am convinced that the public school system, properly administered, is the hope of the nation. It is through its efficiency that democracy must be preserved. Without its leveling influence society would be resolved into castes which would be repugnant to the spirit of our forefathers, and contrary to all of the principles of the American Constitution.

I desire to make the suggestion to you that, as your boys and girls are graduated this year, their attention be directed to the obligation they owe to the community and the state for what they have received. I wish to submit a Pledge of Allegiance to the public schools to be solemnly taken, with uplifted hands, as one number on your commencement program. Probably it will be more impressive, if, before administering it to the class, the person chosen to perform this duty reads the pledge to the audience in a clear, impressive manner, in order that the fathers and mothers assembled may enter into the spirit of the ceremony.

Pledge of Allegiance.

The public school is the bulwark of the American nation. I acknowledge the obligation that I owe to the State and to this community for the training which I have received; and as an expression of my gratitude, I, here and now, in the presence of these assembled witnesses, cheerfully and unreservedly pledge myself ever to give such support to the public schools as my financial ability will permit and always to exert my influence as a citizen of Texas to uphold their ideals and to increase their usefulness in the preparation of the boys and girls of today to be the men and women of tomorrow.

You will understand, of course, that this is merely suggestive. I have no disposition to exercise any undue influence over the local management of the schools. I firmly believe, however, that this pledge if taken seriously, year after year, will be productive of much good.

If this suggestion is received with favor by a majority of the high schools of the state, the pledge will be lithographed and furnished free to all high schools for the signatures of individual graduates for the commencement of 1925. Please let me know whether or not you find it possible to administer it to your graduates this year.

Sincerely yours,
S. M. N. MARRS,
State Superintendent.

By a close vote, the Rabenold "clean books bill" has been defeated in the New York legislature. The strenuous and intelligent efforts of Justice Ford, of the New York State Supreme Court, in behalf of this measure have already centered attention upon the growth of vicious un-American tendencies in popular literature. There are evidences that improvement is imminent. The bill was represented as an effort to establish a censorship, altho there was nothing about it of that character.

The Christian Science Monitor says, "Governor Smith is the creation, the idol, and inevitably the tool of Tammany. Is it possible that the time has come when a Tammany man and an avowed wet can successfully run the gauntlet of Democratic delegates from the nation as a whole?" That time has not come, nor has the time come when he can build up strength to be delivered to an undercover candidate.

It is reported that Mr. J. J. Shubert, theatrical producer, has returned from Europe with rights to several European plays, including two Parisian shows entitled, "The Dance of Midnight", and "One Meets a Nude Woman". But what is Mr. Shubert going to meet if he keeps up this kind of thing?

In 1922 the value of all the automobiles in the United States only reached the figure of $4,567,407,000. If beer and wine were permitted, the liquor bill would exceed this sum and all of it would come from the cash registers of legitimate business.

More than 300 saloons have been put out of business during the last nine months in Philadelphia. There have been 3,108 raids by federal and state agents, netting $400,000 in contraband liquors.

It is said that Attorney General Stone has instructed all local District Attorneys to seek jail sentences for all second offenders against the Volstaed law.

ONE MILE TOWN LECTURE WON FAME FOR SPEAKER

Dr. John E. Aubrey who will lecture at the Central Presbyterian church on Friday night, May 9th at 8:15 has delivered his lecture "The One Mile Town" before Lyceum audiences, from Chatauqua platform and before luncheon clubs all over the country and favorable comments have been made on this lecture from coast to coast. An exchange has the following to say about "The One Mile Town":

"This is the lecture that gained fame for Mr. Aubrey in the South. This man, whose striking success is founded upon his unusual ability as an organizer, tells in this lecture definite ways in which a town or city can be benefited by proper team work. He is not a fanatic on community development. He does not echo time worn phrases. He brings practical suggestions and a wealth of experience that has made his advice sought by many of the big business men of the Middle West. His discussion of the hard roads problem is one of the features. He asks if your town is a "one mile town"—one which has reached that stage which makes no effort to go forward."

Thrilled by His Striking Address

"Dr. J. E. Aubrey is well and most favorably known to the Dallas Rotary Club who have been thrilled by his stirring addresses on several occasions. He is a man who can express himself clearly and to the point and has the power to attract and hold attention."—Dallas Rotary Club, by H. C. Temple, ceretary.

A Man Among Men

We are rejoced to know that J. E. Aubrey will continue to remain here longer. He is in every sense a man among men and his influence for good is already manifest in our city. And it will grow and spread for his life is an example for others to emulate.—Denison, Texas, Daily Herald.

Hit the Mark

"Sustained his reputation as a speaker. His message is constructive throughout, and he left the people with a strong determination to 'go the second mile.' His jokes were pointed and their application always hit the mark."—Thornton, Iowa Enterprise.

This lecture will be delivered at the Central Presbyterian Church on Friday night, May 9th, at 8:15. There will be one or two musical numbers on the program and they will be guaranteed to please especially the male quartet. No other solicitations except that of Dr. Aubrey will be made, and those who attend this lecture are promised there will not be a succession of speeches, and that no collection or subscription list, not even a free will offering will be taken up.

The people of the Chamber of Commerce who wants to hear this lecture, are the substantial citizenship of the town, those who consider themselves town builders and it is hoped that the church will be filled to overflowing.

There was a deep-rooted belief among the ancient peoples of the east that a man's glory was his beard. Compulsory shaving and the clo everopping hair were signs of degradation.

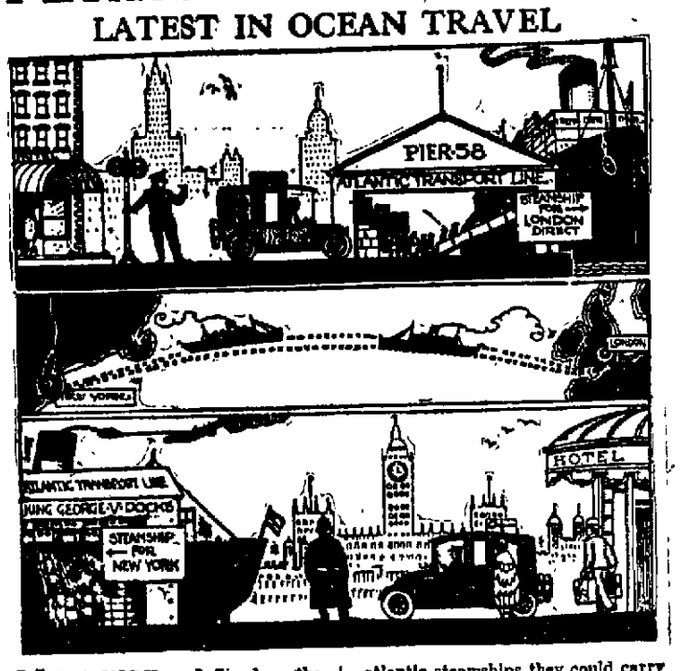
FERRY TO LONDON

LATEST IN OCEAN TRAVEL



NEW YORK and London, the two largest cities in the world, have been connected by a ferry. A taxi from your New York hotel, a pier-to-pier voyage, a taxi to your London hotel—that's your trip to Europe by New York-London ferry.

The boats on this, the largest ferry in the world—about 3800 miles—run on a regular schedule, one leaving New York as the other leaves London. Thus on every voyage they pass, but do not necessarily sight each other, in mid-ocean. Routes, or as the term is "tracks," are laid down for them to follow, and these are far enough apart to prevent danger of collision. But the ships are in constant radio communication with each other and with both continents throughout their voyage.

The "ferry" boats are new, and were built especially for the New York-London trade, at a cost of a good bit more than $6000,000 each. They are 626 feet long and 80 feet wide and register 21,700 tons each, which places them among the 20 largest ocean liners in existence. If they were fitted like other transatlantic steamships they could carry about 2000 passengers, but they are equipped to take only 869 each—in first class only—there being no second class or steerage. Their passenger quarters suggest a yacht, with suites consisting of private sitting rooms, bedrooms and baths. They also have large elegantly appointed public rooms, one being a ballroom. Their decks are very broad, and one section is set aside for such sports as deck tennis and golf.

Fares on the New York-London "ferry" are lower than on the big express liners plying to Cherbourg and Southampton, and the route appeals to Americans, who like quiet elegance at moderate expenditure. The service is conducted by an American-owned line, which operated popular ships between New York and Tilbury Docks, near London, before the war. The present service uses the new King George V docks, in London itself. The ships, like their predecessors, have Indian names—the Minnewaska ("White-capped water") and Minnetonka ("Big water").

in the American League as strength of the league is more than usually divdied. Any of the trailing clubs need but a run of a few games to get up with the leaders.

The Giants and the Reds are doing the heaviest fighting in the National League with the champions leading by two games. The Reds are doing all that could have been epected of them by keeping up with a club that obviously is traveling beyond normal speed.

The first inter-sectional games of the season start late this week and then the Giants and the Yankees will get their first real tests while the strong western clubs will bet a breathing spell against the sofe clubs that the two champions have been mauling.

GENERAL STRIKE IN ARGENTINE MEET WITH VIOLENCE

By BRYAN POWELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

BUENOS AIRES, May 3.—Argentine's general strike, effective throughout the country last mid-night was ushered in by violence.

A bomb exploded in a coach of the Southern passenger train leaving Buenos Aires, causing serious injury to a guard and lesser injuries to a number of passengers. The guard a broken leg.

The strike was called by socialist and labor unions as a protest against the new pensions law which would allow all workers to retire on pensions from a government fund after 25 years of service.

The explosion on the railway train caused intense excitement throughout the capital, citizens fearing recurrence of the fatal riots of five years ago when hundreds were killed on the streets of Buenos Aires.

Police said the bomb was placed under a second class coach, presumably by radicals.

The coach was wrecked, but the train was able to proceed after a brief delay.

So far there have been no arrests.

The general strike in Mendoza, western terminus of the trans-Argentine line and transfer point for the trans-Andean railway to Chile, was reported to have forced closing all business houses.

Rosario, big cattle and grain shipping port near the mouth of the river plate, also was tied up.

In Mendoza, strikers attacked two business houses breaking the windows and wrecking the interiors. Police did not interfere.

Business in the important interior towns of Tucuman also was closed, proprietors joining the socialists and labor unions in opposition to the pensions laws.

Many business houses in Buenos Aires were closed today and will not re-open until the outcome of the struggle is indicated.

It is understood legal advisers of labor organizations are preparing to attack the pensions law as unconstitutional. Labor organizations, anarchists, socialists and communists have effected a coalition to oppose enforcement of the measure, which became effective this month. Extensive demonstrations against the law were held in Buenos Aires last night, big crowds marching down the Avenidia de Mayo from the congressional buildings to the plaza fronting the financial district.

Executives of the stock exchange were in session until 2 a. m. and decided to request all business to suspend Monday until further notice "because of the gravity of the situation."

The exchange also called a meeting for Monday to appoint a committee representing business interests to wait on President Marcelo Alvar appealing to him to postpone making the pension law effective or annul the measure entirely.

The municipal prefect and the minister of marine last night ordered the port police to be concentrated and held in readiness for any emergency.

A source close to President Alvar announced the government is proceeding "with complete sincerity but will deal severely with any persons committing violence."

Ex-Premier Is Facing Larceny Charges.

Congregation Accepts Challenge To Free Church of Debt

erty of the congregation today is estimated to have cost $97,000. The work of Sunday concluded the campaign for funds which means that the church has raised nearly $100,000 in the past two years besides the current expenses of the church and other church work, which has never been permitted to fall short of what was expected of a congregation of this size.

The revival of the past week witnessed the addition of about 50 members and today the total membership is 752. It is also said that there are more than 100 Baptist families in Mexia who have not identified with any denomination or church and the goal for the church membership by November is set at 1,000.

The Finance Committee and other officials of the church over a year ago bonded the church for $40,000, which was really a first lien on the property. Before the bonds were sold, J. K. Hughes, paid the entire sum, without any papers or signatures whatever. The bonds were to draw 8 per cent. This heavy burden was considered a veritable millstone around the necks of the church members and they were anxious to see the amount paid in full and the debt settled. Mr. Hughes made a proposition recently that if the members would raise $24,000, he would pay the other $16,000. This generous challenge was as encouraging that the Finance Committee, Board of Deacons and Officials of the church were anxious to see it accepted. In addition to this, Mr. Hughes, it is explained, has paid thousands of dollars for other church work done by this congregation.

The pastor and assistant pastor, Rev. Joe Jeffers and Rev. Paul Harper, called on their old friend Rev. W. O. Barnett, pastor of the Calvary Baptist church at Dallas, to do the preaching at the revival which closed Sunday night. His powerful messages stirred the membership to their duty, say members who are grateful to him for his services which he gave without a penny of pay or without a dollar of cost to the congregation. He placed the proposition squarely before the church and at the conclusion of a brief sermon Sunday, it was announced that the public subscription would be taken. Will Buckner, chairman and John I. McElroy, secretary of the Finance Committee, went forward immediately and began to write down the names and amount subscribed by the various members and friends. The list shows that practically every family of the church made an offering. Sunday School classes and children added whatever they could to the sum until it rapidly swelled to the point desired.

The proposition by Mr. Hughes was extolled by the speakers. It was shown that in addition to all the other gifts to the church, he had presented the congregation with $10,000 worth of stock in the J. K. Hughes Developing Company, which is placed as a nucleus for a permanent endowment fund.

In the list of investors in this church property, it is shown that it was largely the work of men of average wealth and less. None of the subscriptions, outside of that of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Hughes, exceeded $1,000. There were only eight members who felt able to give as much as $1,000. There were 17 $500 subscriptions; 11 between $200 and $300; 20 $100 gifts; 13, $50 subscriptions and the rest came from those who gave less.

"It just shows what can be done with all lending their full support," said Mr. McElroy this morning in speaking of the success of the day.

Members of the Finance Committee worked until midnight every night last week and there was much work preparatory to the final campaign Sunday, it is explained.

Will Buckner is Chairman of the Finance committee, and the other members are J. I. McElroy, Jim Prickett, Jess McLendon, Joe Harrison and the Board of Deacons, as follows:

W. A. Buckner, W. J. Wright, J. L. Sinclair, Tom Cox, Tom Day, Jno. Mills, S. H. Flake, Chas. Stephens, Jno. Seale, Oliver Gilmore, Duke Pittman, J. M. Tidwell, F. P. Huchingson, O. G. Manning, W. D. Hight.

The Pastor, Rev. Joe Jefferes, is very happy over the outcome of the campaign, as well as are all other officials of the church.

It is their opinion that the entire church and all other Christian denominations in Mexia and community have been uplifted by this stirring work of success. The congregation now is to go forward with its expansion program and with its efforts to prove a real community asset and factor striving constantly for a bigger and better and brighter Mexia.

Gum Chewing Aids the Teeth

You have the authority of doctors and dentists for this statement. Your own experience will prove it, if you will use WRIGLEY'S after every meal.

The following quotations from a recent work on teeth and health are worth remembering:

"Dentists have found that the exercise of gum chewing brings about a better nutrition of the teeth . . . ."

"The cleansing action of the gum between the teeth helps to keep them free from the particles which lodge in the crevices and cause decay."

The busy man—or woman either—rarely has time to clean the teeth after eating. Yet they should be cleaned, and

Fertile Mind Works Out Big Fortune

HOUSTON, May 5—"So I took the $50,000 and started a cat ranch," concluded Tice Wilkins, city detective, one night recently.

Tice, who with his partner. George Payton. while stalking Houston Height district which has been rerevealed his plans, saying, "I've got revealed hs plans, saying, "I've got it all figured out—how to get rich."

"First. I'll get me a little lake in the swamps, buy me some candles and then catch a pair of frogs in the bayou. Each frog lays 283,451 eggs at one time. By protecting them from snakes and ducks I'll be able to raise at least 200,000 croakers. I'll use the candles to draw the bugs thus saving me feed. With frog legs selling at 25 cents a pair, the venture will net $50,000, without any large investment on my part.

"Then I'll take the heads and bodies and fed them to all the cats I can attract to my frog ranch. Cut furs bring $1 each and I could realize approximately $350 off each batch. Now I'll sell some stock in my project to a few of my friends. You can have $5,000 in it, George," said Tice.

To Organize The Fig Industry

HOUSTON, May 5.—Fig raisers, preservers, and land men in the fig industry have organized and adopted a constitution and by-laws.

It is hoped the sale of development orchards under contracts and orchards under contract for development may be standardized through the aid of the new organziation cooperating with the agricultural committee of the Chamber of Commerce and Better Business Bureau.

The organization will pass on all development projects in the fig industry before giving them its endorsement. It will also carry on publicity campaign to induce farmers to raise more figs.

Prohibition Kills One Big Business

HOUSTON, Texas, May 5—Prohibition has made its inroads on one business, in fact the ambulance business is irreparably ruined despite all figures to the contrary.

So says Charles Bader, driver for a local ambulance company.

"Saturday night! That was the time," beamed Bader. "Why the newspaper boys use to fight for the telephone. Now they never come around, just call up occasionally. We use to do ten times as much business. Liquor sure gave us a lot of business.

"Rush, rush, rush, it was then, but it is all over now," said Bader, reminiscently gazing at his pride, the battle-hip-grey "toy wagon."

THE VALUE OF EDUCATION

By Rena May Winningham
(Age 15 years.)

(Editors Note—The following paper was read at the closing of the Shiloh school last week, and fully explains itself. Miss Winningham was one of the graduates of the school.)

The value of education cannot be over estimated, because education is needed for everything we do. It has been said, that without education man would always remain a child. Day laborers in the field as well as our greatest leaders need education.

The nature of education is to prepare us for better citizenship and to get the most worthwhile living out of life. It has been said "The more we put into life, the moore we get out of it."

When we graduate from high school, it will give us a remarkable finishing. High school gives us many advantages over the student who does not finish. It helps us to read better, to read more easily and understand what we read. It helps us to talk better, think better and we learn how to learn.

The purpose of education is to educate jurists who will see that wise laws are enforced, physicians who will render the best services to the sick and protect the well from disease; engineers who will develope our natural resources; teachers who will train the young, in body and mind, and farmers who will make more money and increase the fertility of the soil.

Edusation is needed for all scientific improvements. In the last generation there have been four new industries, which have flourished and will continue to grow in the future. These are the automobile, motion picture, chemical and electrical industries. In the future many more new industries may be developed.

Therefore education brings finaicial values to the state and nation. Boys and girls ought to have more encouragement to go on and finish their education. Public schools are fine starting places for boys and girls but they are poor, very poor, stopping places.

A business man's relations to education is important. We should all strive to get the best education possible and each try to do a little bit better than the other. When a business man installs a machine in his factory, he always wants the most up-to-date equipment. There are three popular terms in business. First, "High Spots," second, "Making the best contagious," and "Self survey." High spots in business is to find the plants that give best results in various ways, and learn the why and wherefore of them. This goes to show that the best is contagious. Self Survey is the step preceeding both the searching of high spots and making the best contagious, by this, I mean a survey of the brain power.

The majority of the real successful business men are the ones that have finished college. The money value of a college education to a business man has been figured out by Dean Holmes and he found that a four year course in college is worth $20,000 or a financial return of $5,000 for every year so spent.

The relation of education to the economic development of the state is an important point for discussion. If it were not for our highly trained engineers our scientific men and, the intelligent leaders of today; our great nation would still be in the same primitive state it was one thousand years ago.

If we are to improve our natural resources; develop our agriculture and enlarge the application of electricity to manufacturing, mining and all methods of transportation, we must study subjects based on these improvements. If education does all these things and brings cash returns to the state, which we know it does, then it ought to be easy to encourage anyone to work for an education.

Without scientific men such as Benjamin Franklin, Eli Whitney, Henry Ford and other famous men, we would not have the great investments we have today.

The value of education can be gotten from a brief summary of the contributions of the University of Wisconsin to the economic development of that state. First, the invention of the milk test saves the farmers each year $800,000 worth of cream that would have been thrown away. Second, agricultural investigations in that state in one year is worth ten to twenty times the one million dollars spent on these experiments.

Texas does not spend half as much money on her colleges and universities as Massachusetts, California, Michigan Wisconsin, Illinois and Virginia. Therefore she cannot expect to make as much progress as these states. Each state should consume its own products and not depend on other states.

A state will issue bonds to develop mineral resources, to build railroads, to put in water works and lighting systems. Why doesn't it issue bonds to develop its greatest and most productive resources, its human resources. An educated person is the greatest and most helpful producing agency in the world.

Cultural education is that part of education which enables us to read the mysteries of the grass and flowers. It enables us to appreciate and love the beautiful flowers and sunsets, to enjoy the pretty music of the trees and brooks and to know and understand the different planets.

No animal except the human can be educated. Why? Because people have souls while just mere animals do not. You, me and the dog were fairly close together when we started out in life. We were all well contented, that is if we were not hungry.

The difference between a man and a dog is the beginning, is that man has a soul and the dog does not. A dog can be trained but he cannot be educated. A dog does not notice the glorious sunsets and the beautiful flowers. He does not appreciate music All he does care for, is plenty to eat and a comfortable place to sleep. On the other hand we enjoy and appreciate music, we love beautiful flowers and trees, we long to know the life and culture of plants. This is called the cultural part of educations. It is education that enables us to love the works of God. It has been said, that without education man would always remain a child. It may be added that without cultural education man and child would remain not far from the level of lower animals. Education opens to us new countries and past ages. The uneducated man sees only his own home and thinks only of the present. Cultivated minds not only have their own thoughts but also have revealed to them the beauties of other countries.

It need scarcely be stated that the real treasure house that is worth while in the world, is books. In reading books we have the pleasure of enjoying the society of the wisest and greatest on earth.

Any one who will master the contents of enough well selected books, to fill a five foot shelf, can obtain culture worth more than a million dollars to him if he remained in ignorance The person who reads and re-reads the Bible and Shakespeare, will secure knowledge which can be surpassed in no other way. But books do not contain the only culture that is worth while, next to good reading we should consider good pictures and music. The child, who, in school learns to love the Madonnas and the Angelus, will find his after-life fuller and richer for doing so.

Also, in regard to music, if you can sit down to a musical instrument and play pretty music, you need never fear of being left in your own company. Even if you have not the talent of producing music, you can have the gift of appreciating it.

A practical education helps us to fight the battles of life and to win in the race for bread but this is only a small part of what education does.

The cultural value of education is worth even more than the practical value because cultural education brings as riches that cannot take wings unto themselves and fly away.

The necessity of education has increased and will continue to increase with the progress of our great nation.

It takes educated men to make and enforce the laws of our great nation. Even when the constitution of the United States was written, 23 out of the 54 who composed the Convention were college graduates.

Education pays just from a financial and economical standpoint. All people have the opportunity to be something more than mere animals.

A high school graduate gains prestige because he has a record behind him that is worth real money.

He learns to read more easily because now adays life is so complex that personally he can touch only a small part of it. The rest he must learn through reading. He will learn to talk better because of his enlarged vocabulary, he will learn to think better because of his wider range of thoughts and last but not least he will learn how to learn because something more than experience is needed in the industrial, commercial, financial or office life. Men must not stop at what they know, but strive to learn something else. This is why all professions perfer high school graduates.

Statistics show that college graduates have given us 55% of our presidents, 54% of our vice presidents, 62% of our secretaries of state, 50% of our secretary of the treasury, 69% of our members of the supreme court, 67% of our attorney generals, 36% of our members of congress and 47% of our speakers of the house.

Uneducated laborers earn on the average of $500 per year for 40 years, a total of $20,000; while high school graduates earn on the average of $100 per year for 40 years, a total of $40,000. This education requires 2160 days of school or 12 years. Each day at school adds $9.02 to our income for life.

For the past 35 years high school enrollments have increased 3 times as fast as the population. Therefore I say that education is the foundation of our great democracy. Moreover the happiness and prosperity of the coming generation depends upon the manner in which we solve the thousands and one gigantic problems confronting us, each one of which demands highly trained intelligence of the highest order among the masses.

The opportunity of the ages is open to the college trained man who can solve these problems for us.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION
THE STATE OF TEXAS

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Limestone County—Greeting:

You are hereby commanded, that you summon, by making publication of this citation in some newspaper published in the County of Limestone if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in any newspaper published in the Judicial District; but if there be no newspaper published in said Judicial District, then in a newspaper published in the nearest district to said Judicial District for four weeks previous to the return day hereof, E. D. Flickinger whose residence is unknown, to be and appear before me, a Justice of the Peace in and for Limestone County, at a regular term of the Justice's Court for Precinct No. 4 of said County, to be begun and holden at my office in Mexia on the 10th day of June, 1924, at ten o'clock A. M., to answer the complaint of Rogers Mercantile Company in a certain suit therein pending, in which Rogers Mercantile Company is Plaintiff, and E. D. Flickinger is Defendant.

Filed on the 26th day of April, A. D. 1924, and numbered on the Docket of said Court No. 739, the nature of the Plaintiff's demand being in substance as follows: On July 14th, 1923, at the instance and request of Defendant the Plaintiff took defendant's note in the sum of $44.50, due thirty days after date, said note providing for ten per cent attorney's fees if placed in the hands of an attorney for collection. Plaintiff says further that he placed the note in the hands of Keys & Mason, attorneys, for collection, agreeing to pay them the ten per cent attorney's fees provided for in the note, the same being reasonable attorney's fees; that the note is now past due and unpaid, and that Defendant, though often requested, has hitherto failed and refused, and still refuses, to pay the same or any part thereof, to Plaintiff's damage in the principal sum of $44.50.

Wherefore, Plaintiff prays that the Defendant be cited to appear and answer this suit; that he have judgment in the principal sum of $44.50, interest, attorney's fees and costs of suit, and for such other and further relief, general and special, in law and in equity, to which he may be justly entitled.

Herein fail not, but have then and there before said Court, at said regular term, this Writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand, this 26th day of April, A. D., 1924.

O. KENNEDY,
Justice of the Peace,
Precinct No. 4 Limestone County, Texas.

ELKS BAND PREPARING FOR THE SHRINE CIRCUS

Director Frank Werner of the Elks band announces that his organization is now having extra rehearsals and are preparing snappy marches, gallops and circus music in preparation for the Shrine Circus which will be put on at Mexia under the auspices of the Shrine Club. The band now has the largest instrumentation it has ever had. Several new members have been taken in within the last few weeks and plenty of snappy, stirring music is promised the public during the six days that the circus will be in Mexia.

Government Is Determined To Stop Out Break

HAVANA, May 3.—The government took stern measures today to prevent agitation in connection with the military out-break in the provinces of Santa Clara and Cienfuegos.

All editions of the newspapers Heraldo de Cuba and El Heraldo were confiscated by police on the ground they contained exaggerated reports of the movement against the government of President Zayas.

It was reported the editor of the Heraldo de Cuba will be deported as a pernicious foreigner.

The government claimed the situation was well in hand, and meager reports reaching the capital indicate loyal troops were restoring order in the affected areas.

Troops still were mobilizing in the vicinity of Cienfuegos.

THE BOOK OF ISAIAH

Statistics of the large libraries show conclusively how great is the public taste for fiction. Fiction in the ordinary conception is a type of story writing which carries with it tales of human interest such as tragedy, adventure and love.

In the great Book of Isaiah chapter after chapter, and there are sixty-six of them, is replete with stirring accounts of devastation, adventure and strategy such as might have been carried in our daily newspapers in describing the late war.

This book may be read as fiction or as accurate records of authentic history according to individual belief.

Such chapter heads as the parable of the Ravaged Vineyard, Isaiah Sent to Encourage King Ahaz, Assyria to Overcome Israel, The Child Who Shall Reign as Prince, Universal Peace out of the French of Jesse, Babylon to Become Lonely Desolate, The Doom of Syria, Egypt to Fall by Civil War. These and many others are more satisfying and thrilling reading than many of today's best sellers.

The Red Letter Large Print Bible now being distributed by this paper contains an endless amount of reading matter which if written as pure fiction by a contemporary author would bring the statistical records of general fiction to even larger figures.

Why does any one neglect to read such typical literature? See today's coupon for information as to how easy this beautifully printed and handsomely bound Bible can be called for at this office, or mailed to you.

NAVARRO NOBLES INTERESTED IN MEXIA SHRINE ACTIVITIES

The following letter was received today by Noble E. L. Crow, President, Mexia Shrine Club, which shows the friendly relationship existing between Mexia and Corsicana Shriners This letter written by Corsicana's candidate for Karem Temples shrine ring, carries with it an atmosphere which is designed to instill some pep in the local Shriners and it behooves them to get in the ring and put over the Shrine Circus in a creditable manner, which will be a lasting advertisement to the city of Mexia and to the credit of the Shriners of this section The letter follows

Mr E L Crow,
Room 1, Farmers Bank Bldg,
Mexia, Texas

Dear Mr Crow

We all got back in to Corsicana on time and while "THE ROADS WERE BAD" each of us had a real good time and all are glad that we responded to your invitation

In behalf of your circus, we are getting right out into the matter and after the Ceremonial we will have some real work underway toward getting you some patronage from here, we plan to have some parties worked up to be on hand most every night Our crowd are good fellows and will line up for anything that is good stuff and while you may be under obligation to your Texarkana friend to some extent, we feel certain that we will get a good working line-up from your town at Karem for my Ring Note which will truly be reciprocated.

Bear in mind and do not quote me as speaking all well for the Shrine Club here but I am speaking what was talked in our crowd after we left your place last night—we all want to help you if we can

Thanking you for your courtesies extended us and assuring you that we all had a good time I am

Yours truly,
BIKE SIMMONS

Announcements were made this morning from Shrine headquarters that merchants and others interested in having an event under the tent during circus week in Mexia should get in touch with Shrine headquarters at once as special prices have been let for merchants exhibits and automobile exhibits

There is yet space available but it is possible that with the numerous duties imposed on the committee in making the circus a big go, some one will not be called on and this is not to be taken as any indication that all are not invited to participate and full particulars will be given upon application to headquarters either by phone or in person

Height and weight table prepared by Dr. C. T. Wood for Bureau of Education, Department of Interior.

AS part of an extensive child welfare campaign carried on through the schools of the nation, the Bureau of Education is spreading broadcast a table of correct heights and weights for healthy children School authorities are urged to have all pupils weighed at regular intervals so that alarming variations from the normal may be discovered and remedied without delay

The correct weight for a child is determined in the tables by his age and height For example, in the case of a boy known to be 12 years old and 55 inches in height the correct weight 76 pounds, is found in the column headed "12 years" and opposite the figures "55" in the column at the extreme left By following this method in using the tables the correct weight for any boy or girl can be found

In studying the evils it is seeking to reform the Bureau of Education has discovered that nearly 5,000,000 boys and girls, or almost 25 per cent of the country's school children, are suffering from malnutrition Therefore the bureau's program emphasizes the necessity for wholesome food

Parents are urged to provide an abundance of fruit, vegetables and pure milk for their children but they are warned against tea and coffee on the ground that the drug caffeine contained in them is too stimulating for the sensitive nervous system of the child.

Still Plenty Of Time to Get Wheel

During the last few days there has been little advertising in the papers about the bicycle campaign which the Circulation eDpartment of the Mexia News, is carrying on, but boys and girls in the campaign are still enthusiastically working for one of the $55 bikes which are being offered. The clerical department has been swamped with orders and it has been almost impossible for any advertising to be prepared.

Boys and girls now working and those wishing to work still have plenty of time to secure one of the bicycles By calling at the News Office they will receive an order book There is plenty of time left, so get the book and go after these subscribers while there are still plenty of them left.

Remember, the solicitors does not have to colect By solictor we mean the boy or girl who is working for the wheel. All he has to do is bet the order from anyone in the city who does not already take the paper.

The special solicitor and collector of the circulation department will call on the people from whom you secure orders and collect for the first month. All you have to do is get the order. An furahermore THERE IS MORE THAN ONE WHEEL This is not a contest. It is a campaign.

Congregation Accepts Challenge of Hughes to Free Church of All Debts

The entire bonded indebtedness of $40,000 of the First Baptist church, was lifted at the morning and night services Sunday.

It was an event which inspiringly climaxed the revival of the week preceding and "The Old Time Religion" rang out, sung by the happy congregation, as it became evident that the last dollar of indebtedness had been subscribed.

At the morning service $19,000 was raised and at the evening service the remainder. Leading to the climax, J. K. Hughes arose and stated that Mrs. Hughes had a proposition to offer. She was invited to speak and simply state that the indebtedness had been reduced to $13,000 and that she was ready to pay half of that, if the Board of Deacons would agree to raise the other half. John McElroy, a member of the Finance Committee, who has devoted many hours to the campaign, so pleased to hear this announcement and challenge, promptly told her that although he was not a member of the Board of Deacons, her proposition was accepted. Then it was that the congregation burst into the singing of "The Old Time Religion," while tears of joy filled the eyes of scores of men and women who were so eager for the success of the movement.

The campaign to build the Baptist church, a magnificent temple in this city, was begun about two years ago. Many said that it could not be done. But with faith in themselves and their God, the Building Committee and Finance Committee and other officials carried the work ahead until the prop-

The outstanding feature of the election in Massachusetts of delegates-at-large to the Democratic National Convention was the election of Brigadier-General Charles N. Cole, who ran solely on the ground that he would vote for the nomination of Governor Alfred E. Smith, of New York. LaFayette B. Gleason, of Kansas, has been elected secretary of the Republican National Convention, to be held in Cleveland, O., and Colonel Edward B. Thayer, of Indianapolis, has been named sergeant-at-arms. Sir Robert Kindersley, British banker and member of the Dawes committee, has been appointed by the Reparations Commission to organize the new German bank of issue to be set up under the Dawes plan.

UNDERWOOD DOES NOT CONCEDE VICTORY IN PRECINCTS

DALLAS, Texas, May 5.—Encouraged by the decisive victory for McAdoo in Saturday's precinct primaries, Texas leaders for the former Secretary of the Treasury laid their plans today to gain complete control of tomorrow's county conventions. Thomas B. Love, national committeeman for Texas, declared that McAdoo would have enough support to defeat a combination of the Underwood and uninstructed forces. He declared that neither Governor Neff nor Former Governor James E. Ferguson are wanted on the Texas delegation to New York. Captain W. E. Lea, Texas Underwood manager, refused to concede the victory to McAdoo and declared that he was ready to combine with the uninstructed delegates at the state convention. He charged that the Klan aided McAdoo to win in Dallas, Harris and Tarrant counties.

By HECK

The Gushers returned from their great trip about the loop and at once proceeded to stage a hetic eleven inning battle with Rankin Johnson's Temple Surgeons at Nowlin Park Sunday. To begin with we lost the game in the first frame when the appendix getters nicked Bob Crow for three hits and aided by errors in bunches, scored four runs for no reason whatever. In this stanza Bryan booted one, Peake one, and Leedy three. The Gushers came right back and tallied five times in about the same manner that the Surgeons did. Geppert started the fracas with a two base blow to left, Butler ambled on four, McDowell flied to right, the Squib going to third after the catch and scoring on Bryan's long foul to left which Webb was crazy enough to catch. Jones singled to center, Lance booted Peake's easy roller. Leedy took a soak in the slats and with the bases loaded to the muzzle, Skipper Fowlkes whammed a two base knock over Lind's bean in right clearing the bases and we were a run to the good. Ludwick relieved Crow in the first with only one out and the Gushers chased Trammel in the fifth but were stopped dead by this bird McCall who had plenty and sure used it. The knife wielders knotted the count in the fifth on Lind's single after two were out and Leedy's error on Royster's blow that finally settled in right center while Red legged it for third and Swede counted. The final blow off came in the eleventh frame on Webb's double, Nichols' single, a pass to Lacy that filled the sacks and pitcher McCall's single to center. In spite of the loss the Gushers look like a much better club than the Surgeons and they were due to spill a flock of errors since they have been playing a tight fielding game the past several days. Then another good reason it was to lose was the fact that it gave the "wovles," the "tin horns" and the lum sports a chance to howl and believe me brother they sure howled. What I can't savvy is what right have this gang of small town sports to howl over the loss of one game when the club has just returned from a road trip in which the won six out of eight ames. I hate to say it but you loyal fans know that we had a bunch of poor losers out there Sunday and they howled and razzed the home club during the first half of the first frame was a crime, and then they turned and cheeder them when the Gushers showed their fighting stuff by overcoming the lead in the same frame. To you hard losers I want to tip you off that it is bad policy to bet your coca cola and ice cream soda money on a ball game—you might lose and then you will only have your powder puff and vanity box to cheer you up for the balance of the week.

Tom Price made his debut before a Mexia crowd as umpire and handled the game to perfection and it was a tough game for any umpire to handle with two wild pitchers like Trammell and McCall working—especially Trammell. Price is starting his twenty-second year as an umpire and is conceded to be one of the best in the minor leagues and it is well worth the price of admission to watch him handle a game.

It looks like Rankin Johnson (himself) in the box for Temple today and I expect to see Skipper Fowlkes shoot Bob Crow back at the enemy and I'll stake a stick of gum that Bob wins this time.

C. E.'S CLOSE CONVENTION SUNDAY NITE

The Convention of the Waco District of Christian Endeavor which convened last week at Tehuacana was brought to a close Sunday evening. Something over 150 visitors and delegates were present during the services.

Features of the Saturday morning session were the addresses by Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Landrum. Mrs. Landrum spoke on "Tonics for Missionary Programs, illustrating her lecture cleverly with bottles filled with colored water to represent medical tonics. Mr. Landrum's address had for its subject "My Obligation to God in Time and Money." He stressed the importance of tithing and showed by statistics the comparative salaries received by business and professional men, fighters, actors, and ministers. After Mr. Landrum's address the delegates engaged in a sort of round table discussion on the subject of "My Society is Doing—What?"

The afternoon session was taken up with a conference on Society problems and an address on the Teen Age by Austin D. Bryan, Assistant Field Secretary of the State Christian Endeavor Societies. Mrs. Landrum gave a splendid reading entitled, "The Lost Word" by Henry Van Dyke.

Saturday evening the delegates and visitors were entertained at the Girls Dormitory with a Fellowship Banquet which was a most enjoyable affair. The session which convened at 7:15 was featured with an address by Austin D. Bryan on "The Big Business of Christian Endeavor—The Youth."

Previous to Mr. Austin's address the Convention heard the reports of Committees selected at the Saturday morning session, and selected Hillsboro as the place for the Fall Convention.

Rev. Victor K. Aubrey addressed the Convention Sunday afternoon on the subject "Whatsoever With My Life." His address came as a splendid inspiration to those who were permitted to hear him. "Christian Endeavor and the Graded Plan" was the subject of a discussion of new methods in Christian Endeavor work by Mr. Austin Bryan at this session. Roy D. Jordon gave a short discussion of Camp Convention and some business matters of importance to the society were taken up.

"Ye Are My Friends" was the address at the closing session Sunday evening delivered by Rev. J. W. Pearson. Rev. Pearson made use of an acrostic based on the letters in the name Christ and showed what one must do and be in order to be classed as a friend of Christ. Before his address resolutions prepared for the Convention by a committee were read and approved and the Convention came

Col. Albert E. Humphreys spent Sunday in Mexia, the guest of Mayor Ernest Watson. He arrived about 11:00 o'clock from Dallas by automobile from Corsicana and returned on the afternoon train. He met many friends while here who were glad to see him in the city for the first time in many months. At noon, he had dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Watson. Ben Stollenwerck also enjoyed the hospitality of the occasion at the Mayor's home.

While here, the Colonel made two trips to his favorite spot, the Reunion Grounds and looked real home sick for the place, Mayor Watson avers. He was very much gratified to note the progress that had been made here in recent months. "Mexia is one of the best towns in the country," he said.

Pioneer Newsies Want A Game

The Pioneer Ball Club is encountering great difficulty in securing games for the past two or three weeks. Manager Williams states that the boys have been disappointed at least five times by out of town ball clubs who promised to come in and play and then failed to show up.

The club wish to play some boys team in Mexia and are open for games almost at any time. The boys want to play and disappointment work hard in the youngsters. Any club in the sixteen year old class will be taken on and a game may be matched by simply calling the Pioneer News Stand at the Mexia Drug Company.

WATCHING THE SCOREBOARD

Yesterday's hero—Grover Alexander. The veteran Chicago pitcher let the Cardinals down with three hits and beat them 4 to 1. Freigban's homer kept the Cards from being blanked.

Three runs in the eighth and two in the ninth inning gave the Browns a six to five victory over the Tigers and a clean sweep of the series.

Poor pitching by four White Sox hurlers enabled the Indians to win 13 to 7.

The Giants massacred the poor Phillines and took a double header from them by scores of 13 to 3 and 12 to 3.

T. P. Browder Blows In As Big Gasser When the Casing Is Pulled at 3200

The T. & P. Browder well near Groesbeck blew in as a big gasser while the casing was being pulled Saturday and is now running wild. It is reported that the casing was blown out of the hole and a big crater is now being formed around the well. Mud and water is being thrown about a hundred feet in the air according to reports and there is apparently no let up in the gas pressure since the well blew in Saturday. T. & P. officials are expected to arrive at Groesbeck on the noon train today to take charge of the well, although it will probably be a complete wreck and the hole destroyed by the gas pressure and cavings.

The Browder was drilled by the T. & P. something over a year ago to a reported depth of about 3200 feet and was abandoned as dry although a gas blow out occurred while the casing was being set and considerable mud and slush thrown out at that time.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 5.—Two minor outbreaks of hoof and mouth disease in Los Angeles county were the only reverses suffered by state and federal forces fighting the epidemic over the week-end, was announced today. The infection involved sixty four head of cattle, all in previously ravaged areas. Continued success in wiping out the infection in other parts of the state were reported by the state and federal authorities.

St. Louis Browns Offer Event Of The Past Week

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, May 5.—Revival of the St. Louis Browns and the Brooklyn Robins was the only interesting features last week in the major league pennant races. The two New York champions continued to dominate the opposition and they are holding such a consistent trance that Metropolitan fans think they are in.

The revival of the St. Louis Browns, was represented in five victories not only lifted George Sisler's team into a tie for fifth place, but it pulled the Detroit Tigers from the lead.

Four of the five victories were won at the expense of the Tigers.

The revival of the Browns was only natural as it is potentially a strong club. Sisler is playing great ball and to the satisfaction of all baseball he has pulled what seems to be a complete comeback.

The bust of the Philadelphia Athletics who dropped six straight games and crashed into the cellar, was another event of the week. The Athletics and the Cleveland Indians are the biggest disappointments of the early season.

The Indians are finding it almost impossible to get started as the club has been getting poor pitching, has been acting in the field and is not hitting like it should.

Only .225 points separate the leading Yankees and the trailing Athletics

She states that quite a number of the members of the class have no mothers living and these have adopted Mothers of 60 or over who will be with them Tuesday.

MANY IN COUNTY FAVOR OUSLEY FOR V. P. OF THE U. S.

Resolutions will likely be introduced at the County Convention which convenes in Groesbeck Tuesday morning at 10 o'cloc, urging the delegation to the State Convention at Waco to vote for Alvin Ousley for Vice President on the Democratic ticket.

Quite a number of his friends here have been active today and the atmosphere has been found generally favorable, according to reports late this afternoon.

A general campaign all over Texas, since several precincts instructed for him Saturday, is being made by a Ousley For Vice President Organization with headquarters in Dallas and which includes many of the leading democrats of Texas.

He is past National Commander of the American Legion, which fact gives him a strong following all over Texas and his nomination is considered favorable in many states, it is claimed.

Quite a number will go from here to the county convention.

Sunday will be remembered by all Baptists of Mexia as the greatest day in the history of the congregation.

The members came with their offerings, the result of loving sacrifice and dedicated them to loving service, the combined contributions lifting the burden of bondage from their shoulders and freeing the millstone that has hung about their necks for nearly two years and which has been a wild nightmare to disturb the peace of mind of the Board of Deacons, Finance Committee, pastor and other leaders of the church.

All Mexia congratulates them on the success which now is theirs and especially rejoice that Mexia has so many good people, men, women and children, who are ever responsive to duty's call, even though duty claims that they pass through periods of sacrifice in order to meet their obligations to God and to Man.

In reviewing the wonderful work of God's love in the hearts of Mexia Baptists, it would be unjust not to pay a tribute to that sterling citizen, J. K. Hughes and to Mrs. Hughes as well, for the part which they played, which meant so much to the success of the finance campaign, in the conduct of which so many rich spirited blessings came to the congregation.

The whole week, from April 27 to May 4, was filled with spiritual blessings, as the revival spirit hovered around the altars and baptized the hearts and souls of the members of this church. The closing day, therefore, found hands attuned for the work before them and that they succeeded is not a matter of surprise but is the natural results expected to have follow-on the miracles of salvation.

To, the visiting minister, Dr. W. O. Barnett of Dallas, contributed his time, interest and zeal along with his matchless talents, as a leader of men, unselfishly and generously to the glory of God and cause of Christianity in Mexia, provokes the highest commendation of grateful lives.

The pastor, Rev. Joe Jeffers; Assistant Pastor, Rev. Paul Harper, Board of Deacons, Finance Committee and every contributor have rendered a service to their community which will be a memorial to them as enduring as the Rock of Ages and as lasting as the centuries of an unending eternity.

Especial commendation from the Great Judge is sure to be given before the Judgment Bar to the widow who gave her mite; to the person who went to the bin and gave the last pound of meal, and, indeed, there were such, as well as to the person of means who presented an offering worthy of his worldly substance.

An inspiration stirring in its power is the thought that Mexia citizens will not have to wait until the waters of that mystic river of death close in upon all that is mortal of men before they begin to reap dividends on their investment in this world and at this particular time. The lifting of the enormous church debt Sunday will invigorate the church life of every denomination in Mexia, will encourage Christians everywhere to work for a better world, and points those who have not professed faith in Christianity to depths of human joy which they have never experienced and to the spirit of sacrifice of which they know but little. All are benefited by the example.

God pays dividends on investments in His causes more assuredly than does any human institution or individual and He pays them now. They are not declared once a year or once in ten years, but every day. He sends the sunshine and the rain, the harvest and the power to reap as well as the power to sow; He watches over His children in the hours when all others forsake them. Indeed, the prophet of old spoke of the future as well as the past when he declared emphatically that he had never seen the righteous forsaken nor his seed begging bread.

LIMESTONE COUNTY CONVENTION

From reports from over the county, it would seem that William Gibbs McAdoo will receive the vote of the Limestone County Democrats when they go to the State Convention at Waco. The indications are that he is the favorite of the county. Many delegations have been instructed for him. One delegation has been instructed for Underwood. Many of the uninstructed delegations are known to be for McAdoo. Thus, it is but natural to suspect that Mr. McAdoo will be favored.

There promises, however, to be a fight in the county convention and every delegate should honor those who honored them by being present, each and every one doing his duty as instructed, and if not instructed, according to what he believes would be the dictates of the people.

In the resolutions, it is suggested that it would be well to present for county adoption the resolutions passed at the Mexia voting precinct convention and in addition urge a strong immigration plank and reinforce the demand as much as possible that the Democratic Party continue in the Bone Dry Column and for all the amendments to the Constitution as well as to the Constitution itself.

SHOULD LIGHT WINE AND 2.75 PER CENT BEER BE PERMITTED

1. Light wine and beer are intoxicating. The art of disitllation is a modern discovery. Every case of drunkenness in ancient history was caused by light wine or beer. The Bible says that Noah drank wine and was drunken. According to the light wine nullificationists, the Bible must be corrected. Noah could not have been drunken because wine is not intoxicating! Alexander the Great died in a drunken debauch, but he had never heard of whiskey. They only had light wine and beer in his day. Must history be corrected or are the nullificationists wrong?

2. We would have a drink bill of $5,000,0000,000 annually. When the nation closed the saloons our drink bill was nearly $2,500,000,000. The post-war drink bill in Great Britain with about 40,000,000 people reached 470,000,000 pounds or approximately $2,250,000,000, which we understand, is practically double what it was before the Kaiser started trouble. With increased prices and greater consumption, due to after-war tendencies, there is no doubt that our liquor bill would be $5,000,000,000 annually, not including the incidental losses to the people caused by the renewed traffic. What would it mean to take $5,000,000,000 out of legitimate American industry at the present time? According to Charles Lenon, of the American Federation of Labor, the working men of the United States contributed 70 per cent of the drink bill in pre-prohibition days. What would it mean to lower the standard of living of our people particularly of our working classes, to the tune of $5,000,000,000 at one time?

3. We would have the saloon back. The American saloon was a beer saloon, not a whisky saloon. All of its institutional evils including its brothel accompaniment, its gambling hells and side-entrances for women introduced by the brewery-owned saloon, would thrive fast as well if not a drop of whisky were sold.

4. More than ninety per cent of the old-time liquor trade would come back. The belief that beer should not come under the condemnation meted out to whisky is traceable to the common impression that beer drinkers consume much less alcohol than whisky drinkers. But those who believe this overlook the fact that the man who drinks four per cent beer usually takes ten times as much as the man who drinks forty per cent whisky. The United States Internal Revenue Commissioner, on page 675 1914, gives the per capita consumption of distilled spirits and beer for that year, their respective alcoholic contents as follows:

	Gallons Used	Gallons of Alcohol
Distilled Spirits	1.46	0.584
Malt Liquors	20.51	0.820

It will be seen from this that the per capita consumption of alcohol by beer drinkers in 1914 was 40 per cent greater than by whisky drinkers.

5. But we would also have whisky back. You cannot open 200,000 saloons in this country and keep them from selling whisky. The saloon never obeyed any law passed for its regulation except the law compelling it to pay a tax and the evasions of that were notorious.

6. We would have the trade back. If you want to know what that was, read the report of the Senate Judiciary Committee on the breweries and anti-American propaganda. All of the rottenness and hyphenism of the trade would be once again injected into politics.

7. We would have a new evil in wide-spread drinking by women. The American woman was kept out of the American saloon. The American man considered her too good for the debauching influence of beer. Very few "respectable" women drank at all in America in the old days. But the old standards of conduct for women are passing away under the influence of the new feminism and we have not yet had time for the establishment of new standards. In this transition time, the influence of the saloon and the beer trade, urged by an economic motive and pushed by every method of trade promotion, would be perilous to American womanhood.

8. It is not needed for medicine. One hundred of the greatest physicians and surgeons of the United States in a signed petition to Congress protesting against the enactment of a medical beer bill said:

"Malt liquors serve no medical purposes which cannot be satisfactorily met in other ways, and that without the danger of cultivating the beverage use of an alcoholic liquor.

"Beer has never been recognized as a medicine. It has no such status in law, science or tradition. It is not listed at all in the United States pharmacopoeia, the standard of medicine, nor it its use advocated in any text book generally accepted by the medicine profession."

COMMENCEMENT SEASON

To all City Superintendents and High School Principals:

The commencement season, which brings with it term examinations, the making of statistical reports and the general rounding up of school activities, is approaching. Some of you are closing up the work in your present field and are looking forward to the next year as affording still greater opportunities in your chosen profession.

It is needless for me to suggest that this democratic institution—the American school—in which we are co-laborers, challenges each of us to render the very best service possible in the training of boys and girls to be worthy citizens of the great empire state of Texas. Honesty of purpose is characteristic of the true professional teacher, who is ever seeking for new ideas that may contribute to the successful accomplishment of his plans.

I am convinced that the public school system, properly administered, is the hope of the nation. It is through its efficiency that democracy must be preserved. Without its leveling influence society would be resolved into castes which would be repugnant to the spirit of our forefathers, and contrary to all of the principles of the American Constitution.

I desire to make the suggestion to you that, as your boys and girls are graduated this year, their attention be directed to the obligation they owe to the community and the state for what they have received. I wish to submit a Pledge of Allegiance to the public schools to be solemnly taken, with uplifted hands, as one number on your commencement program. Probably it will be more impressive, if, before administering it to the class, the person chosen to perform this duty reads the pledge to the audience in a clear, impressive manner, in order that the fathers and mothers assembled may enter into the spirit of the ceremony.

Pledge of Allegiance.

The public school is the bulwark of the American nation. I acknowledge the obligation that I owe to the State and to this community for the training which I have received; and as an expression of my gratitude, I, here and now, in the presence of these assembled witnesses, cheerfully and unreservedly pledge myself ever to give such support to the public schools as my financial ability will permit and always to exert my influence as a citizen of Texas to uphold their ideals and to increase their usefulness in the preparation of the boys and girls of today to be the men and women of tomorrow.

You will understand, of course, that this is merely suggestive. I have no disposition to exercise any undue influence over the local management of the schools. I firmly believe, however, that this pledge if taken seriously, year after year, will be productive of much good.

If this suggestion is received with favor by a majority of the high schools of the state, the pledge will be lithographed and furnished free to all high schools for the signatures of individual graduates for the commencement of 1925. Please let me know whether or not you find it possible to administer it to your graduates this year.

Sincerely yours,
S. M. N. MARRS,
State Superintendent.

By a close vote, the Rabenold "clean books bill" has been defeated in the New York legislature. The strenuous and intelligent efforts of Justice Ford, of the New York State Supreme Court, in behalf of this measure have already centered attention upon the growth of vicious un-American tendencies in popular literature. There are evidences that improvement is imminent. The bill was represented as an effort to establish a censorship, altho there was nothing about it of that character.

The Christian Science Monitor says, "Governor Smith is the creation, the idol, and inevitably the tool of Tammany. Is it possible that the time has come when a Tammany man and an avowed wet can successfully run the gauntlet of Democratic delegates from the nation as a whole?" That time has not come, nor has the time come when he can build up strength to be delivered to an undercover candidate.

It is reported that Mr. J. J. Shubert, theatrical producer, has returned from Europe with rights to several European plays, including two Parisian shows entitled, "The Dance of Midnight", and "One Meets a Nude Woman". But what is Mr. Shubert going to meet if he keeps up this kind of thing?

In 1922 the value of all the automobiles in the United States only reached the figure of $4,567,407,000. If beer and wine were permitted, the liquor bill would exceed this sum and all of it would come from the cash registers of legitimate business.

More than 300 saloons have been put out of business during the last nine months in Philadelphia. There have been 3,108 raids by federal and state agents, netting $400,000 in contraband liquors.

It is said that Attorney General Stone has instructed all local District Attorneys to seek jail sentences for all second offenders against the Volstaed law.

ONE MILE TOWN LECTURE WON FAME FOR SPEAKER

Dr. John E. Aubrey who will lecture at the Central Presbyterian church on Friday night, May 9th at 8:15 has delivered his lecture "The One Mile Town" before Lyceum audiences, from Chatauqua platform and before luncheon clubs all over the country and favorable comments have been made on this lecture from coast to coast. An exchange has the following to say about "The One Mile Town":

"This is the lecture that gained fame for Mr. Aubrey in the South. This man, whose striking success is founded upon his unusual ability as an organizer, tells in this lecture definite ways in which a town or city can be benefited by proper team work. He is not a fanatic on community development. He does not echo time worn phrases. He brings practical suggestions and a wealth of experience that has made his advice sought by many of the big business men of the Middle West. His discussion of the hard roads problem is one of the features. He asks if your town is a "one mile town"—one which has reached that stage which makes no effort to go forward."

Thrilled by His Striking Address

"Dr. J. E. Aubrey is well and most favorably known to the Dallas Rotary Club who have been thrilled by his stirring addresses on several occasions. He is a man who can express himself clearly and to the point and has the power to attract and hold attention."—Dallas Rotary Club, by H. C. Temple, ecretary.

A Man Among Men

We are rejoiced to know that J. E. Aubrey will continue to remain here longer. He is in every sense a man among men and his influence for good is already manifest in our city. And it will grow and spread for his life is an example for others to emulate.—Denison, Texas, Daily Herald.

Hit the Mark

"Sustained his reputation as a speaker. His message is constructive throughout, and he left the people with a strong determination to 'go the second mile.' His jokes were pointed and their application always hit the mark."—Thornton, Iowa Enterprise.

This lecture will be delivered at the Central Presbyterian Church on Friday night, May 9th, at 8:15. There will be one or two musical numbers on the program and they will be guaranteed to please especially the male quartet. No other addresses except that of Dr. Aubrey will be made, and those who attend this lecture are promised there will not be a succession of speeches, and that no collection or subscription list, not even a free will offering will be taken up.

The people of the Chamber of Commerce who wants to hear this lecture, are the substantial citizenship of the town, those who consider themselves townbuilders and it is hoped that the church will be filled to overflowing.

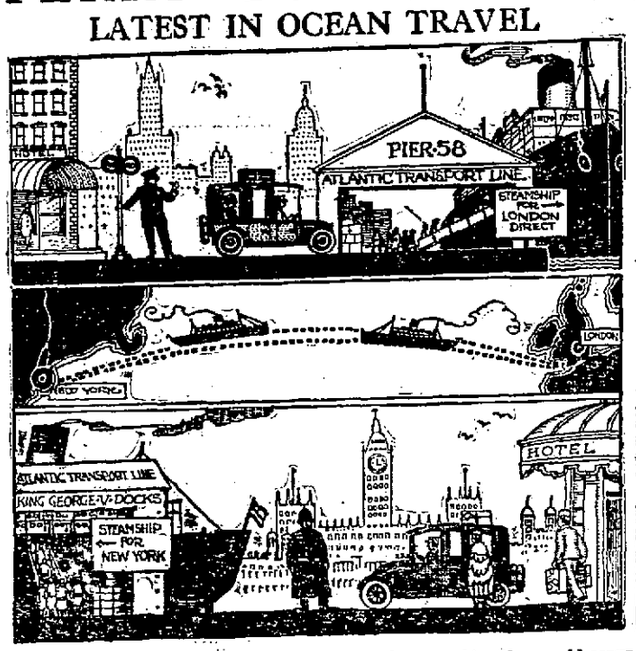
FERRY TO LONDON

LATEST IN OCEAN TRAVEL



NEW YORK and London, the two largest cities in the world, have been connected by a ferry. A taxi from your New York hotel, a pier-to-pier voyage, a taxi to your London hotel—that's your trip to Europe by New York-London ferry.

The boats on this, the largest ferry in the world—about 3300 miles—run on a regular schedule, one leaving New York as the other leaves London. Thus on every voyage they pass, but do not necessarily sight each other, in mid-ocean. Routes, or as the term is "tracks," are laid down for them to follow, and these are far enough apart to prevent danger of collision. But the ships are in constant radio communication with each other and with both continents throughout their voyage.

The "ferry" boats are new, and were built especially for the New York-London trade, at a cost of a good bit more than $5,000,000 each. They are 626 feet long and 80 feet wide and register 21,700 tons each, which places them among the 20 largest ocean liners in existence. If they were fitted like other transatlantic steamships they could carry about 2000 passengers, but they are equipped to take only 369 each—in first class only—there being no second class or steerage. Their passenger quarters suggest a yacht, with suites consisting of private sitting rooms, bedrooms and baths. They also have large elegantly appointed public rooms, one being a ballroom. Their decks are very broad, and one section is set aside for such sports as deck tennis and golf.

Fares on the New York-London "ferry" are lower than on the big express liners plying to Cherbourg and Southampton, and the route appeals to Americans, who like quiet elegance at moderate expenditure. The service is conducted by an American-owned line, which operated popular ships between New York and Tilbury Docks, near London, before the war. The present service uses the new King George V docks, in London itself. The ships, like their predecessors, have Indian names—the Minnewaska ("White-capped water") and Minnetonka ("Big water").

GENERAL STRIKE IN ARGENTINE MEET WITH VIOLENCE

By BRYAN POWERS
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

BUENOS AIRES, May 3.—Argentine's general strike, effective through out the country last mid-night was ushered in by violence.

A bomb exploded in a coach of the Southern passenger train leaving Buenos Aires, causing serious injury to a guard and lesser injuries to a number of passengers. The guard a broken leg.

The strike was called by socialist and labor unions as a protest against the new pensions law which would allow all workers to retire on pensions from a government fund after 25 years of service.

The explosion on the railway train caused intense excitement throughout the capital, citizens fearing recurrence of the fatal riots of five years ago when hundreds were killed on the streets of Buenos Aires.

Police said the bomb was placed under a second class coach, presumably by radicals.

The coach was wrecked, but the train was able to proceed after a brief delay.

So far there have been no arrests.

The general strike in Mendoza, western terminus of the trans-Argentine line and transfer point for the trans-Andean railway to Chile, was reported to have forced closing all business houses.

Rosario, big cattle and grain shipping port near the mouth of the river plate, also was tied up.

In Mendoza, strikers attacked two business houses breaking the windows and wrecking the interiors. Police did not interfere.

Business in the important interior towns of Tucuman also was closed, proprietors joining the socialists and labor unions in opposition to the pensions laws.

Many business houses in Buenos Aires were closed today and will not re-open until the outcome of the struggle is indicated.

It is understood legal advisers of labor organizations are preparing to attack the pensions law as unconstitutional. Labor organizations, anarchists, socialists and communists have effected a coalition to oppose enforcement of the measure, which became effective this month. Extensive demonstrations against the law were held in Buenos Aires last night, big crowds marching down the Avenida de Mayo from the congressional buildings to the plaza fronting the financial district.

Executives of the stock exchange were in session until 2 a. m. and decided to request all business to suspend Monday until further notice "because of the gravity of the situation."

The exchange also called a meeting for Monday to appoint a committee representing business interests to wait on President Marcelo Alvar appealing to him to postpone making the pension law effective or annul the measure entirely.

The municipal prefect and the minister of marine last night ordered the port police to be concentrated and held in readiness for any emergency.

A source close to President Alvar announced the government is proceeding "with complete sincerity but will deal severely with any persons committing violence."

Ex-Premier Is Facing Larceny Charges.

Congregation Accepts Challenge To Free Church of Debt

erty of the congregation today is estimated to have cost $97,000. The work of Sunday concluded the campaign for funds which means that the church has raised nearly $100,000 in the past two years besides the current expenses of the church and other church work, which has never been permitted to fall short of what was expected of a congregation of this size.

The revival of the past week witnessed the addition of about 50 members and today the total membership is 752. It is also said that there are more than 100 Baptist families in Mexia who have not identified with any denomination or church and the goal for the church membership by November is set at 1,000.

The Finance Committee and other officials of the church over a year ago bonded the church for $40,000, which was really a first lien on the property. Before the bonds were sold, J. K. Hughes, paid the entire sum, without any papers or signatures whatever. The bonds were to draw 8 per cent. This heavy burden was considered a veritable millstone around the necks of the church members and they were anxious to see the amount paid in full and the debt settled. Mr. Hughes made a proposition recently that if the members would raise $24,000, he would pay the other $16,000. This generous challenge was as encouraging that the Finance Committee, Board of Deacons and Officials of the church were anxious to see it accepted. In addition to this, Mr. Hughes, it is explained, has paid thousands of dollars for other church work done by this congregation.

The pastor and assistant pastor, Rev. Joe Jeffers and Rev. Paul Harper, called on their old friend Rev. W. O. Barnett, pastor of the Calvary Baptist church at Dallas, to do the preaching at the revival which closed Sunday night. His powerful messages stirred the membership to their duty, say members who are grateful to him for his services which he gave without a penny of pay or without a dollar of cost to the congregation. He placed the proposition squarely before the church and at the conclusion of a brief sermon Sunday, it was announced that the public subscription would be taken. Will Buckner, chairman and John I. McElroy, secretary of the Finance Committee, went forward immediately and began to write down the names and amount subscribed by the various members and friends. The list shows that practically every family of the church made an offering. Sunday School classes and children added whatever they could to the sum until it rapidly swelled to the point desired.

The proposition by Mr. Hughes was extolled by the speakers. It was shown that in addition to all the other gifts to the church, he had presented the congregation with $10,000 worth of stock in the J. K. Hughes Developing Company, which is placed as a nucleus for a permanent endowment fund.

In the list of investors in this church property, it is shown that it was largely the work of men of average wealth and less. None of the subscriptions, outside of that of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Hughes, exceeded $1,000. There were only eight members who felt able to give as much as $1,000. There were 17 $500 subscriptions; 11 between $200 and $300; 20 $100 gifts; 13, $50 subscriptions and the rest came from those who gave less.

"It just shows what can be done with all lending their full support," said Mr. McElroy this morning in speaking of the success of the day.

Members of the Finance Committee worked until midnight every night last week and there was much work preparatory to the final campaign Sunday, it is explained.

Will Buckner is Chairman of the Finance committee, and the other members are J. I. McElroy, Jim Prickett, Jess McLendon, Joe Harrison and the Board of Deacons, as follows:

W. A. Buckner, W. J. Wright, J. L. Sinclair, Tom Cox, Tom Day, Jno. Mills, S. H. Flake, Chas. Stephens, Jno. Seale, Oliver Gilmore, Duke Pittman, J. M. Tidwell, F. P. Huchingson, O. G. Manning, W. D. Hight.

The Pastor, Rev. Joe Jefferes, is very happy over the outcome of the campaign, as well as are all other officials of the church.

It is their opinion that the entire church and all other Christian denominations in Mexia and community have been uplifted by this stirring work of success. The congregation now is to go forward with its expansion program and with its efforts to prove a real community asset and factor striving constantly for a bigger and better and brighter Mexia.

Fertile Mind Works Out Big Fortune

HOUSTON, May 5.—"So I took the $50,000 and started a cat ranch," concluded Tice Wilkins, city detective, one night recently.

Tice, who with his partner, George Payton, while stalking Houston Height district which has been re-revealed his plans, saying, "I've got revealed hs plans, sayng, "I've got it all figured out—how to get rich."

"First, I'll get me a little lake in the swamps, buy me some candles and then catch a pair of frogs in the bayou. Each frog lays 283,451 eggs at one time. By protecting them from snakes and ducks I'll be able to raise at least 200,000 croakers. I'll use the candles to draw the bugs thus saving me feed. With frog legs selling at 25 cents a pair, the venture will net $50,000, without any large investment on my part.

"Then I'll take the heads and bodies and fed them to all the cats I can attract to my frog ranch. Cut furs bring $1 each and I could realize approximately $350 off each batch. Now I'll sell some stock in my project to a few of my friends. You can have $5,000 in it, George," said Tice.

George scratched his head, wondering whether to take his friend home or lock him up.

To Organize The Fig Industry

HOUSTON, May 5.—Fig raisers, perservers, and land men in the fig industry have organized and adopted a constitution and by-laws.

It is hoped the sale of development orchards under contracts and orchards under contract for development may be standardized through the aid of the new organziation cooperating with the agricultural committee of the Chamber of Commerce and Better Business Bureau.

The organization will pass on all development projects in the fig industry before giving them its endorsement. It will also carry on publicity campaign to induce farmers to raise more figs.

Prohibition Kills One Big Business

HOUSTON, Texas, May 5.—Prohibition has made its inroads on one business, in fact the ambulance business is irreparably ruined despite all figures to the contrary.

So says Charles Bader, driver for a local ambulance company.

"Saturday night! That was the time," beamed Bader. "Why the newspaper boys use to fight for the telephone. Now they never come around; just call up occasionally. We use to do ten times as much business. Liquor sure gave us a lot of business.

"Rush, rush, rush, it was then, but it is all over now," said Bader, reminiscently gazing at his pride, the battleship-grey "joy wagon."

THE VALUE OF EDUCATION

By Rena May Winningham
(Age 15 years.)

(Editors Note—The following paper was read at the closing of the Shiloh school last week, and fully explains itself. Miss Winningham was one of the graduates of the school.)

The value of education cannot be over estimated, because education is needed for everything we do. It has been said, that without education man would always remain a child. Day laborers in the field as well as our greatest leaders need education.

The nature of education is to prepare us for better citizenship and to get the most worthwhile living out of life. It has been said "The more we put into life, the moore we get out of it."

When we graduate from high school, it will give us a remarkable finishing. High school gives us many advantages over the student who does not finish. It helps us to read better, to read more easily and understand what we read. It helps us to talk better, think better and we learn how to learn.

The purpose of education is to educate jurists who will see that wise laws are enforced, physicians who will render the best services to the sick and protect the well from disease; engineers who will develope our natural resources; teachers who will train the young, in body and mind, and farmers who will make more money and increase the fertility of the soil.

Edusation is needed for all scientific improvements. In the last generation there have been four new industries, which have flourished and will continue to grow in the future. These are the automobile, motion picture, chemical and electrical industries. In the future many more new industries may be developed.

Therefore education brings finaicial values to the state and nation. Boys and girls ought to have more encouragement to go on and finish their education. Public schools are fine starting places for boys and girls but they are poor, very poor, stopping places.

A business man's relations to education is important. We should all strive to get the best education possible and each try to do a little bit better than the other. When a business man installs a machine in his factory, he always wants the most up-to-date equipment. There are three popular terms in business. First, "High Spots," second, "Making the best contagious," and "Self survey." High spots in business is to find the plants that give best results in various ways, and learn the why and wherefore of them. This goes to show that the best is contagious. Self Survey is the step preceeding both the searching of high spots and making the best contagious, by this, I mean a survey of the brain power.

The majority of the real successful business men are the ones that have finished college. The money value of a college education to a business man has been figured out by Dean Holmes and he found that a four year course in college is worth $20,000 or a financial return of $5,000 for every year so spent.

The relation of education to the econimic development of the state is an important point for discussion. If it were not for our highly trained engineers our scientific men and the intelligent leaders of today; our great nation would still be in the same primitive state it was one thousand years ago.

If we are to improve our natural resources; develop our agriculture and enlarge the application of electricity to manufacturing, mining and all methods of transportation, we must study subjects based on these improvements. If education does all these things and brings cash returns to the state, which we know it does, then it ought to be easy to encourage anyone to work for an education.

Without scientific men such as Benjamin Franklin, Eli Whitney, Henry Ford and other famous men, we would not have the great investments we have today.

The value of education can be gotten from a brief summary of the contributions of the University of Wisconsin to the economic development of that state. First, the invention of the milk test saves the farmers each year $800,000 worth of cream that would have been thrown away. Second, agricultural investigations in that state in one year is worth ten to twenty times the one million dollars spent on these experiments.

Texas does not spend half as much money on her colleges and universities as Massachusetts, California, Michigan Wisconsin, Illinois and Virginia. Therefore she cannot expect to make as much progress as these states. Each state should consume its own products and not depend on other states.

A state will issue bonds to develop mineral resources, to build railroads, to put in water works and lighting systems. Why doesn't it issue bonds to develop its greatest and most productive resources, its human resources. An educated person is the greatest and most helpful producing agency in the world.

Cultural education is that part of education which enables us to read the mysteries of the grass and flowers. It enables us to appreciate and love the beautiful flowers and sunsets, to enjoy the pretty music of the trees and brooks and to know and understand the different planets.

No animal except the human can be educated. Why? Because people have souls while just mere animals do not. You, me and the dog were fairly close together when we started out in life. We were all well contented, that is if we were not hungry.

The difference between a man and a dog is the beginning, is that man has a soul and the dog does not. A dog can be trained but he cannot be educated. A dog does not notice the glorious sunsets and the beautiful flowers. He does not appreciate music All he does care for, is plenty to eat and a comfortable place to sleep. On the other hand we enjoy and appreciate music, we love beautiful flowers and trees, we long to know the life and culture of plants. This is called the cultural part of educations. It is education that enables us to love the works of God. It has been said, that without education man would always remain a child. It may be added that without cultural education man and child would remain not far from the level of lower animals. Education opens to us new countries and past ages. The uneducated man sees only his own home and thinks only of the present. Cultivated minds not only have their own thoughts but also have revealed to them the beauties of other countries.

It need scarcely be stated that the real treasure house that is worth while in the world, is books. In reading books we have the pleasure of enjoying the society of the wisest and greatest on earth.

Any one who will master the contents of enough well selected books, to fill a five foot shelf, can obtain culture worth more than a million dollars to him if he remained in ignorance The person who reads and re-reads the Bible and Shakespeare, will secure knowledge which can be surpassed in no other way. But books do not contain the only culture that is worth while, next to good reading we should consider good pictures and music. The child, who, in school learns to love the Madonnas and the Angelus, will find his after-life fuller and richer for doing so.

Also, in regard to music, if you can sit down to a musical instrument and play pretty music, you need never fear of being left in your own company. Even if you have not the talent of producing music, you can have the gift of appreciating it.

A practical education helps us to fight the battles of life and to win in the race for bread but this is only a small part of what education does.

The cultural value of education is worth even more than the practical value because cultural education brings us riches that cannot take wings unto themselves and fly away.

The necessity of education has increased and will continue to increase with the progress of our great nation.

It takes educated men to make and enforce the laws of our great nation. Even when the constitution of the United States was written, 23 out of the 54 who composed the Convention were college graduates.

Education pays just from a financial and economical standpoint. All people have the opportunity to be something more than mere animals.

A high school graduate gains prestige because he has a record behind him that is worth real money.

He learns to read more easily because now adays life is so complex that personally he can touch only a small part of it. The rest he must learn through reading. He will learn to talk better because of his enlarged vocabulary, he will learn to think better because of his wider range of thoughts and last but not least he will learn how to learn because something more than experience is needed in the iudustrial, commercial, financial or office life. Men must not stop at what they know, but strive to learn something else. This is why all professions perfer high school graduates.

Statistics show that college graduates have given us 55% of our presidents, 54% of our vice presidents, 62% of our secretaries of state, 50% of our secretary of the treasury, 69% of our members of the supreme court, 67% of our attorney generals, 36% of our members of congress and 47% of our speakers of the house.

Uneducated laborers earn on the average of $500 per year for 40 years, a total of $20,000; while high school graduates earn on the average of $100 per year for 40 years, a total of $40,000. This education requires 2160 days of school or 12 years. Each day at school adds $9.02 to our income for life.

For the past 35 years high school enrollments have increased 3 times as fast as the population. Therefore I say that education is the foundation of our great democracy. Moreover the happiness and prosperity of the coming generation depends upon the manner in which we solve the thousands and one gigantic problems confronting us, each one of which demands highly trained intelligence of the highest order among the masses.

The opportunity of the ages is open to the college trained man who can solve these problems for us.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION
THE STATE OF TEXAS

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Limestone County—Greeting:

You are hereby commanded, that you summon, by making publication of this citation in some newspaper published in the County of Limestone if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in any newspaper published in the Judicial District; but if there be no newspaper published in said Judicial District, then in a newspaper published in the nearest district to said Judicial District for four weeks previous to the return day hereof, B. D. Flickinger whose residence is unknown, to be and appear before me, a Justice of the Peace in and for Limestone County, at a regular term of the Justice's Court for Precinct No. 4 of said County, to be begun and holden at my office in Mexia on the 10th day of June, 1924, at ten o'clock A. M., to answer the complaint of Rogers Mercantile Company in a certain suit therein pending, in which Rogers Mercantile Company is Plaintiff, and B. D. Flickinger is Defendant.

Filed on the 26th day of April, A. D. 1924, and numbered on the Docket of said Court No. 739, the nature of the Plaintiff's demand being in substance as follows: On July 14th, 1922, at the instance and request of Defendant the Plaintiff took defendant's note in the sum of $44.50, due thirty days after date, said note providing for ten per cent attorney's fees if placed in the hands of an attorney for collection. Plaintiff says further that he placed the note in the hands of Keys & Mason, attorneys, for collection, agreeing to pay them the ten per cent attorney's fees provided for in the note, the same being reasonable attorney's fees; that the note is now past due and unpaid, and that Defendant, though often requested, has hitherto failed and refused, and still refuses, to pay the same or any part thereof, to Plaintiff's damage in the principal sum of $44.50.

Wherefore, Plaintiff prays that the Defendant be cited to appear and answer this suit; that he have judgment in the principal sum of $44.50, interest, attorney's fees and costs of suit, and for such other and further relief,general and special, in law and in equity, to which he may be justly entitled.

Herein fail not, but have then and there before said Court, at said regular term, this Writ, with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand, this 26th day of April, A. D., 1924.

O. KENNEDY,
Justice of the Peace,

Government Is Determined To Stop Out Break

HAVANA, May 3.—The government took stern measures today to prevent agitation in connection with the military out-break in the provinces of Santa Clara and Cienfuegos.

All editions of the newspapers Heraldo de Cuba and El Heraldo were confiscated by police on the ground they contained exaggerated reports of the movement against the government of President Zayas.

It was reported the editor of the Heraldo de Cuba will be deported as a pernicious foreigner.

The government claimed the situation was well in hand, and meager reports reaching the capital indicate loyal troops were restoring order in the affected areas.

Troops still were mobilizing in the vicinity of Cienfuegos.

THE BOOK OF ISAIAH

Statistics of the large libraries show conclusively how great is the public taste for fiction. Fiction in the ordinary conception is a type of story writing which carries with it tales of human interest such as tragedy, adventure and love.

In the great Book of Isaiah chapter after chapter, and there are sixty-six of them, is replete with stirring accounts of devastation, adventure and strategy such as might have been carried in our daily newspapers in describing the late war.

This book may be read as fiction or as accurate records of authentic history according to individual belief.

Such chapter heads as the parable of the Ravaged Vineyard, Isaiah Sent to Encourage King Ahaz, Assyria to Overcome Israel, The Child Who Shall Reign as Prince, Universal Peace out of the Branch of Jesse, Babylon to Become Utterly Desolate, The Doom of Syria, Egypt to Fall by Civil War. These and many others are more satisfying and thrilling reading than many of today's best sellers.

The Red Letter Large Print Bible now being distributed by this paper contains an endless amount of reading matter which if written as pure fiction by a contemporary author would bring the statistical records of general fiction to even larger figures.

Why does any one neglect to read such typical literature? See today's coupon for information as to how easy this beautifully printed and handsomely bound Bible can be called for at this office, or mailed to you.

NAVARRO NOBLES INTERESTED IN MEXIA SHRINE ACTIVITIES

The following letter was received today by Noble E. L. Crow, President, Mexia Shrine Club, which shows the friendly relationship existing between Mexia and Corsicana Shriners. This letter written by Corsicana's candidate for Karem Temples shrine ring, carries with it an atmosphre which is designed to instill some pep in the local Shriners and it behooves them to get in the ring and put over the Shrine Circus in a creditable manner, which will be a lasting advertisement to the city of Mexia and to the credit of the Shriners of this section. The letter follows:

Mr. E. L. Crow,
Room 1, Farmers Bank Bldg.,
Mexia, Texas.

Dear Mr. Crow:

We all got back in to Corsicana on time and while "THE ROADS WERE BAD" each of us had a real good time and all are glad that we responded to your invitation.

In behalf of your circus, we are getting right out into the matter and after the Ceremonial we will have some real work underway towards getting you some patronage from here, we plan to have some parties worked up to be on hand most every night. Our crowd are good fellows and will line up for anything that is good stuff. and while you may be under obligations to your League friend to some extent, we feel certain that we will get a good strong lineup from your town at Karem for my Ring Vote, which will truly be reciprocated.

Bear in mind and do not quote me as speaking all toll for the Shrine Club here, but I am speaking what was talked in our crowd after we left your place last night—we all want to help you if we can.

Thanking you for your thoughts in inviting us and assuring you that we all had a good time, I am

Yours very truly,
BIKE SIMMONS.

Announcement is made this morning from Shrine headquarters that merchants and others interested in having an exhibit under the tent during circus week in Mexia should get in touch with Shrine headquarters at once, as several spaces have been let for merchants exhibits and automobile exhibits.

There is yet space available but it is possible that with the numerous duties imposed on the committee in making the circus a big go, some one will not be called on and this is not to be taken as any indication that all are not invited to participate and full particulars will be given upon application to headquarters, either by phone or in person.

Height and weight table prepared by Dr. C. T. Wood for Bureau of Education, Department of Interior.

AS part of an extensive child welfare campaign carried on through the schools of the nation, the Bureau of Education is spreading broadcast a table of correct heights and weights for healthy children. School authorities are urged to have all pupils weighed at regular intervals so that alarming variations from the normal may be discovered and remedied without delay.

The correct weight for a child is determined in the tables by his age and height. For example, in the case of a boy known to be 12 years old and 55 inches in height the correct weight 76 pounds, is found in the column headed "12 years" and opposite the figures "55" in the column at the extreme left. By following this method in using the tables the correct weight for any boy or girl can be found.

In studying the evils it is seeking to reform the Bureau of Education has discovered that nearly 5,000,000 boys and girls, or almost 25 per cent of the country's school children, are suffering from malnutrition. Therefore the bureau's program emphasizes the necessity for wholesome food.

Parents are urged to provide an abundance of fruit, vegetables and pure milk for their children, but they are warned against tea and coffee on the ground that the drug caffeine contained in them is too stimulating for the sensitive nervous system of the child.

Civil Service Reform League Enters Charges

WASHINGTON, May 5.—Postal employes who are democrats are blamed and fired by Postmaster General New and their places given to republicans in disregard of civil service laws, the Civil Service Reform League charged today. An informal investigation was made by the League after New denied an opportunity to make official inquires disclosed that charges against democrats whom he removed were trivial and that more serious offenses of the same nature by republicans had been disregarded, Richard Boechel, the League's local representative declared. Postal inspectors used to persecute democratis postal employes and drive them from office, Boeckel said..

Still Plenty Of Time to Get Wheel

During the last few days there has been little advertising in the papers about the bicycle campaign which the Circulation eDpartment of the Mexia News is carrying on, but boys and girls in the campaign are still enthusiastically working for one of the $55 bikes which are being offered. The clerical department has been swamped with orders and it has been almost impossible for any advertising to be prepared.

Boys and girls now working and those wishing to work still have plenty of time to secure one of the bicycles. By calling at the News Office they will receive an order book. There is plenty of time left, so get the book and go after these subscribers while there are still plenty of them left.

Remember, the solicitors does not have to colect. By solictor we mean the boy or girl who is working for the wheel. All he has to do is bet the order from anyone in the city who does not alveady take the paper.

The special solicitor and collector of the circulation department will call on the people from whom you secure orders and collect for the first month. All you have to do is get the order. An furahermore THERE IS MORE THAN ONE WHEEL. This is not a contest. It is a campaign.
